

PERSHING AND WEEKS MAKE PLEA FOR SANE POLICY IN THE ARMY

Both Men Say Unpreparedness in All of Country's Wars Has Caused Great Loss of Life and Staggering Costs—Pershing Says That Human Nature Has Not Changed

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 25.—A plea for a national military policy which would assure the checking of aggression by foreign powers in its incipency and which would avoid "confusion," disorder, delay and extravagance when emergencies arise was made today by Secretary Weeks and General Pershing before a senate committee in support of the war department program for an army of 13,000 officers and 150,000 enlisted men.

The statements by the two army heads concluded the public discussion of the annual army supply bill and the appropriation committee which has charge of it will begin immediately to write the measure with the prospect said to be for an increase over the house figure of 11,000 officers and 115,000 men.

General Pershing declared that had the United States been adequately prepared "there is little question that the United States under strong leadership could have prevented the world war altogether."

SENATOR KING OPENS FIRE ON TARIFF MEASURE

Attacks Increased Duties on Drugs, Dyes, Inks and Paints

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 25.—Increased duties on drugs, dyes, inks and paints proposed in the administration tariff bill came under fire today from Senate Democrats in the second day of general debate on the measure. Senator King Democrat, Utah, said the increase proposed ranged from 150 to 600 percent and charged that enactment of the proposed duties would increase the already swollen fortunes of drug and chemical manufacturers at the expense of the American people.

He warned corporations and business men that unless they treated the consuming public fairly the people would rise up and pull down the temple of business.

Serving notice on the senate that there would be votes on each of the hundreds of rates in the bill, Senator Jones, New Mexico Democrat, asked members of the committee majority to explain on what information the majority had transferred acetic acid from the free list to the dutiable list.

After some cross fire of debate, Senator Smoot, Utah, ranking Republican on the committee said Canada had found a new process for making acetic acid during the war and that it was a case of protecting the American industry of their market over to Canada. He added that information as to prices of the commodity in Germany justified the rate imposed.

Senator Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi, presented a resolution calling upon the tariff committee for information as to the result of operating the emergency tariff bill. Senator Smoot said this could be acted upon tomorrow without displacing the tariff bill.

"We are told," said Senator Harrison, "that the emergency tariff was to be panacea for all agricultural ills. We know that was largely buncombe. The tariff commission has gathered the facts and congress and the country are entitled to know what they are. The facts will help in a wise consideration of this bill."

RUSSIANS STILL CUTTING DIDOEES AT CONFERENCE

Makes Covert Threat Against Poland for Her Stand

(By The Associated Press)
GENOA, April 25.—Soviet Russia contributed another sensation to the economic conference today by sending a note to the Polish delegation remonstrating against Poland's acting in joining with the allied powers in protest against a separate treaty between Russia and Germany. Russia claimed that the peace treaty between herself and Poland covers all relations between the two countries so that Poland, like Germany, should not participate in the discussion of Russian affairs even intimating that Poland by her present action in the conference has abrogated the treaty signed at Riga on March 18, 1921.

Russia has a strong red army encamped near the Polish border, and for this reason the Russian remonstrances are regarded by some of the delegates as equivalent to almost a threat against Poland.

The experts on the Russian question sitting without the soviet delegates today compared notes on the new proposals presented by the Russian delegates at yesterday's session and decided to forward their report to their respective governments. It is expected that when the answers are received from the various capitals the powers will submit counter proposals to the soviet in an endeavor to reach a working basis for an accord.

The French are disturbed over the manner in which the English have interpreted Premier Poincare's address. The French spokesman made it clear that all French are alarmed over future military possibilities of the Russo-German treaty and that M. Poincare was merely voicing France's genuine disquietude. There are certain indications here that France, with her dwindling population is fearful of the constantly increasing German population united with mighty Russia.

MINE WORKERS WILL MAKE NO CHANGE IN CONDUCT OF STRIKE

Announcement is Made by President Lewis at Pittsburgh

(By The Associated Press)
PITTSBURGH, April 25.—There will be no change in the policy of the United Mine Workers of America in the conduct of the national coal strike said John L. Lewis, international president, here today.

Mr. Lewis stopped for a conference with Vice President P. T. Fagan and Secretary William Hargart who was very well satisfied with the progress being made toward the organization of the miners in the extensive Fayette and Morel and non-union fields where his report said hundreds of non-union miners had joined in the strike. After the conference at Charleston, Mr. Lewis said he would go to Washington.

Reports that a number of mines in the Fayette-Westmoreland region which had been affected by the strike resumed operations today excited much interest in Pittsburgh. Operators declared that this pointed to early resumption in other mines while union leaders said such defections were always to be expected particularly in the region where the miners had never before been on strike.

Seventeen Probably Dead in Texas Flood

(By The Associated Press)
FORT WORTH, Tex., April 25.—Seventeen probably dead and property damage estimated at approximately one million dollars is the toll of a flood which struck Fort Worth early today, sweeping before it scores of residences and small buildings, overflowing hundreds of acres of land and inundating several city streets.

Word was reaching here tonight from points north of Fort Worth indicates that a further rise is expected and every effort was being made to prevent additional loss of life and property.

Rescue workers are laboring tirelessly in bringing relief to flood sufferers and attempting to rescue the flood stricken from their homes.

With boiler rooms of the city power and light company flooded residential Fort Worth is spending a night in darkness. No water was available since early this morning and it is believed the entire city will be without lights or power within a few hours.

The flood was confined chiefly to the lowlands adjoining the tributaries of the Trinity river. Morine, Seymour, Clear Forks and the Trinity rivers were swollen, overflowing the bottoms nearby.

Water stood three feet in depth in the stock yards and was only a foot from the Livestock Exchange Building tonight, but these waters were expected to subside quickly.

Tonight 500 members of the American Legion were patrolling the streets augmenting the police force which was working full time in the flooded areas.

Tracks of the interurban lines in Dallas and Cleburne when twisted masses of steel for hundreds of yards. On both lines the road bed was washed away.

LADY ASTOR TALKS AT ANNUAL LUNCHEON OF ASSOCIATED PRESS

Says America Will Yet Join the Conference at Genoa

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 25.—Lady Astor told leading editors and publishers of the United States today at the annual luncheon of The Associated Press that America would yet join the conference at Genoa.

"I believe America can show the way to peace," she exclaimed fervently amid a gale of applause.

The reference to Genoa was but one of a score of subjects touched upon by the Virginia-born member of the British house of commons in a breezy address on mother love and practical politics that held the close attention of his auditors.

Lady Astor touched at random on such topics as Lloyd George, Bolshevism, labor and capital, the power of the press, a closer understanding between England and the United States.

"I have often been called wild since I left home, but I have never been called a peach until I came back," was the way she started her speech referring to her introduction by Frank N. Noyes, president of The Associated Press who said in discussing the apple episode in the garden of Eden that "man has ever fallen for the peach, whether it be wild or cultivated."

"The press of a country is a little different from ambassadors. We send our ambassadors and they can interpret their governments, but the press can even go further. They can interpret the different peoples. And that is why the Associated Press has been a link really one of the great agents for progress that we have known in our generation. You cannot realize how great that responsibility is. I do not want to flatter the press. I do not really like to flatter anyone.

"But I think the whole world should know what it owes to Mr. Melville E. Stone (counselor of The Associated Press and for many years its general manager). His vision created you and his vision is going to lead to a better world and a better understanding among all countries.

SEARCH FOR PLANE NOT SUCCESSFUL

(By The Associated Press)
KEY WEST, Fla., April 25.—Search for the commercial seaplane Santa Maria which with six persons aboard has been missing since it left here early yesterday for Nassau, a flight of approximately 300 miles has been unsuccessful so far as was known here tonight.

Naval and commercial seaplanes left here early today to look for the craft and radio stations both here and at Miami required all vessels to report any trace of the plane.

Aboard the Santa Maria when it left here were an unidentified woman passenger, Dr. Eugene Lowe of this city, Pharmacist Leslie Curry and Pilots Musick and Richardson and Mechanic Rob- ert.

A stiff breeze was blowing off the coast yesterday and it was hoped here that the pilot had anchored at the shoals off Andros Island.

WOULD STOP USE OF OIL IN RIVERS

Washington, April 25.—A joint resolution requesting the president to call a conference of maritime nations with a view to adoption of effective means for prevention of pollution of navigable waters by oil burning and oil carrying ships was reported today by the house foreign affairs committee. The resolution set forth that dumping of oil refuse has become a serious menace to maritime and fishing industries, and that the accumulation of floating oil around docks has added to the fire hazard.

J., Pittsburgh, Pa., and Chicago.

Conditions Bad Near Cairo

Chicago, April 25.—Seventy thousand acres of land near Cairo, Illinois, are completely covered with water which is not expected to recede for four weeks, according to a survey made by Mayor Rhoads of Cairo and received today at Central division headquarters of the American Red Cross here. Every bayou and river in Alexander county is surrounded by a levee. Increasing the probability of inundations, the report said. The Red Cross fleet is continuing to remove people and stock from points where they have been marooned and additional supplies are being sent to the section.

People who worked a lifetime to support themselves in old age have been left destitute by the tornado which swept over Washington county, Tennessee, according to Red Cross reports from that district. The survey is being made to determine necessary relief measures.

At Beardstown, Illinois, Red Cross officials said 100 families are being cared for and supplies are arriving regularly, while at Murphysboro, Illinois, motor boats are still patrolling the waters to pick up families and to furnish supplies to small hamlets.

From the vicinity of Carrollton, Illinois, reports of heavy damage to crops and homes have been received by the Red Cross which is furnishing emergency relief.

Mississippi Levees Hold

Memphis, Tenn., April 25.—Levees along the central stretches of the Mississippi continued to hold today against the pressure of the third swell of the spring flood now pouring into the waterway from northern tributaries with engineers confident that the crucial stage will pass without a break in the embankments. Along the Red Foot levee south of Hickman, Ky., where the river was approaching its crest, work on supplementary barriers was continued at top speed to counteract the effect of caving banks.

AERONAUTICAL PROBLEMS ARE BEING SOLVED

Work is Being Done in Laboratories at Langley Field

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 25.—Aeronautical problems, which have baffled the best minds of the scientific world are being solved with marked success thru experiments in the laboratories at Langley Field, Va., under the direction of the national advisory committee for aeronautics, Joseph A. Ames, chairman of the executive committee today told the concluding session of the National Academy of Sciences.

There are three outstanding problems in aeronautics, Dr. Ames said, those involving the discovery of a substitute for the gasoline engine, determination of shape and section of a wing which will improve the performance of an airplane and the replacement of the ordinary experiments on models of airplanes or their parts by a method giving complete information concerning full sized machines.

One result, Dr. Ames exclaimed, is the modification of the liberty engine which will enable it to function by an injection of oil. This is done by increasing the size of the piston, in order to produce a suitable compression. Air is then admitted rapidly compressed, thus raising the temperature sufficiently to ignite the oil which is admitted as a jet.

The advantages derived from this modification, it was said, were small weight of oil requirement and small cost and diminution of fire risk.

Dr. Ames further declared that investigations concerning airplane wings had resulted in the development of a wing which offered marked advantage over all now in use both aerodynamically and structurally; and that under the directions of the committee the Newport News Shipbuilding company had just completed a large steel tank or wind tunnel which was believed to be the largest in the world in which are to be tested in the future models of airplanes and their parts.

All true balances and apparatus in this tunnel, he said, worked automatically and readings are taken thru small windows. The results obtained thru this new apparatus, he further said, would open up an entirely new field in aerodynamics.

Dr. John C. Merriam, president of the Carnegie Institution of Washington and Chester Stock, of the University of California, discussed the question some years ago in California of the accumulation of perfectly preserved remains of extinct animals in asphalt beds. These discoveries, the speaker agreed, furnished "some of the most interesting data on the history of life thus far secured in America."

TAKES CALLING OF SPECIAL SESSION UNDER ADVISEMENT

Governor Small Receives Request of Senator Epler Mills

(By The Associated Press)
WAUKEGAN, Ill., April 25.—State Senator Epler C. Mills of Cass county, today asked Governor Len Small to call a special session of the legislature to appropriate funds for flood relief in Southern Illinois.

An appropriation of $500,000 by the last legislature out of which such relief could have come was declared unconstitutional by the courts.

The governor has not yet decided whether to act on Senator Mills' request. The senator told him that the high waters along the Illinois river had done $20,000,000 damage between Peoria and Naples alone. In Beardstown, he said, 1,200 homes have either been completely destroyed or badly damaged.

Governor Small said that he would take the request for a special session of the legislature under advisement until he heard from his flood relief commission.

GETTING JURY IN SMALL TRIAL NOT PROVING EASY JOB

Lawyers Wrangle and Jurors Try to Escape Service

(By The Associated Press)
WAUKEGAN, Ill., April 25.—With the first venire of 100 exhausted, the trial of Governor Len Small adjourned tonight with only four men in the box, one temporarily accepted by both sides and three tentatively passed by the state.

A second venire of 100 has been called for tomorrow.

Hopes entertained last night for speedy selection of the jury to try the governor were dashed today when the sum total of yesterday's work—and jurors passed by both sides was dismissed after the state had reopened his examination and challenged him for cause. The prospective juror, Theodore Goldschmidt, a wholesale fruit merchant, declared he could not give a fair trial to the defendant because of business worries.

Tonight the jury box contains Alexander Smith, a farmer, accepted by both sides and Rudolph Gruenau, of Lake Zurich, Edwin A. Atkinson, of Highland Park and C. O. Rich, of Avon, tentatively passed by the state, but not yet tendered to the defense.

With the first venire exhausted the court adjourned early to permit the lawyers to spend the afternoon in conference in an effort to agree on points of law which are expected to be raised during the trial.

Today's proceedings were marked by several brief clashes between C. C. LeForge, chief of counsel for the governor and Ralph Dady, of Waukegan, assisting the prosecution. Mr. Dady is a former prosecuting attorney of Lake county who tried Will Orpet in a famous murder case here several years ago.

The first spat came when Mr. Day attempted to bring out that Mr. Stanley Kroll, a prospective juror assayed by the defense had pleaded guilty to a charge of bootlegging within the last two months.

Mr. LeForge objected to the question and Judge Claire C. Edwards sustained him over Mr. Dady's protests. The prosecution demanded a chance to argue the point and the jury was ordered from the room but before they had left Mr. Dady withdrew his request, challenged Mr. Kroll for cause and the court ordered him to step down for having a fixed opinion.

The next exchange occurred when Mr. Dady tried an educational test on Santi Leonardi another prospective juror and asked him for his definition of such words as "theory, reasonable doubt, consistent, circumstantial and hypothesis."

Mr. LeForge objected, but Leonardi was challenged for cause after he had defined circumstantial and consistent as meaning the same thing.

Jurors Try to Avoid Service
Fear that the trial might last three or four months is chiefly responsible for many of the voumen seeking to escape service.

Alexander Smith, a farmer of Rosecrans Corners, expressed the sentiment of the others, when, asked if he could give the governor a fair trial he replied:

"I could try, but if I have to stay here three or four months at $3 a day my family will have to eat snowballs."

Mr. Smith is the father of nine children.

The jurymen who yesterday was challenged by the state only to disclose under questioning by the court that he believed the governor to be guilty was matched by another candidate for jury service who told Judge Edwards after the defense had challenged him that he believed the governor to be innocent.

Governor Small followed the day's proceedings carefully, sitting at his lawyers' table where he held frequent whispered consultations with Mr. LeForge and his associate counsel. The questioning of the veniremen is being accelerated by the extensive reports which each side has obtained thru private investigators employed to check up on the jury list.

JUDGE DECLARES CONSPIRACY EXISTS

(By The Associated Press)
CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 25.—Judge George W. McClintick tonight in handing down his decision on a motion filed by counsel for the United Mine Workers to dissolve a temporary restraining order against union activities in the winding gulf field, decreed that a temporary injunction "would remain in effect until further orders from this court."

Judge McClintick's decision overruled and refused the motion to dismiss the temporary order and was based on the finding that a conspiracy between the international union and operators of the central competitive fields had existed since 1893.

"Medical Attendance" is the head line in a recent advertisement of the Yellow Cab Co. That sounds rather ominous for the passengers at first reading, but the advertisement goes on to emphasize the beneficence of the company in providing medical attendance for the families of its employees.

A recent estimate of the flood damage in the Meredosia area is $20,000,000. Included in this estimate is the loss of labor at the C. B. & Q. shops, amounting to $240,000. Other losses of the kind are included.

One has a feeling after reading the figures that the losses of property are bad enough without running up the total by figuring the loss of wages and other shortages that have come about because the wheels of industry are temporarily stopped.

A coroner's jury recently absolved a man from the guilt of a murder charge because he was intoxicated when he committed the crime. The jury must have been intoxicated too, for what other explanation could there be of such a verdict. Fortunately a coroner's finding does not prevent a further investigation by law enforcement officials.

The world, as it thinks, is putting increasing importance upon the recent German-Russian treaty. A close co-operation between these two countries does not augur well for the future of France. The days of everlasting peace have not yet come to Europe and the prospect is not alluring.

When you take account of the losses in the flooded district we have an idea that you will find the farmer has suffered the most. In many cases his residence has been damaged, the feed stored in barns and cribs rendered useless and in addition the prospect for raising crops in 1922 have been wiped out. In many an instance the cost for levee repairs, added to the losses the farmer has already sustained through the flood will mean bankruptcy.

BATTLESHIP IOWA TO MEET SAD END

Will be used as target for present navy—Was first radio controlled vessel.

PHILADELPHIA. — Preparations are going forward at the Philadelphia Navy yard toward placing the old battleship Iowa in condition for the day shortly when she will be sent to Davy Jones' locker some place off Cape Henry.

Besides having the reputation of an old fighter, the Iowa may be better known as the radio controlled vessel, or the ship without a crew. The radio-controlling apparatus is being removed from the Ohio, the Iowa's mother ship, and being placed aboard the destroyer Dickerson.

Escorted by the Dickerson some time the latter part of this month the Iowa, under her own steam will take her place in view of the whole Atlantic fleet, it was stated, and then be sunk. The idea of dismantling a vessel that has held its own at sea to navy men just as gruesome as an execution. Sinking a ship in its own element with big shells is another matter and when the Iowa takes her last long dive into the deep there will be no mourners.

It has not been determined exactly how the old man of war is going to be sunk, but it probably will be done with big guns from the dreadnoughts of the fleet.

Tests of the armor-piercing qualities of new projectiles and new guns are to be made in addition to the tests of the radio control. The old vessel is slow and to a certain extent unwieldy.

For two years the Ohio has been the control ship of the Iowa but with the little Dickerson usurping her place, the Ohio will be stripped of all removable parts and probably placed on sale with others of the fighting ships that were.

In one Australian wheat field 70,000 mice, weighing about a ton, were killed in one afternoon.

BECOMES CENTER OF BOLSHIEV PROPAGANDA

STOCKHOLM.—This city has become the most important center Russia, according to several bolshevik propaganda outside leading newspapers, which remark the indignation and alarm manifested in many Swedish quarters over what is termed the "tolerant attitude" of the present Socialist cabinet toward bolshevik penetration.

Soviet delegations occupy commodious apartments in the most fashionable quarters of the city, says the SVENSKA DAGBLADET, describing the situation. It is here that the "red threads" connecting Russia unite, the newspaper adds, explaining that bolshevik traveling agents are constantly going and coming from Moscow.

Anti bolshevik express the fear that red propaganda will be given a still firmer hold on Sweden through the signing of the commercial treaty between Soviet Russia and Sweden.

Shields for back and chest have been issued to the Egyptian police to protect them from missiles thrown by rioters.

THE REDUCED BURLINGTON HOURS

The reduced service continues at the Burlington passenger station. The office is now only open from 6:25 to 8:25 a. m., 10:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., and 1:45 to 5:45 p. m. This means a total of eight hours and that some men have been laid off. The station is not open in the evening when the C. P. & St. L. passenger comes in, and it is of course a matter of inconvenience when people call the Burlington station for information to find it closed.

The matter was taken up with Mr. Cotsworth, assistant general passenger agent, when he was in Jacksonville last Thursday and it is hoped that some relief may be given in the way of improved service.

AWAITS SHOWING OF PASSION PLAY

OBERRAMMERGAU, BAVARIA. The villagers here are feverishly finishing preparations for the first performance of the Passion Play, which occurs May 14, after a full dress rehearsal May 9 before a number of invited guests. The village elders say they have made arrangements to house and feed the foreign and native guests and to protect them from profiteers or any form of extortion.

Only about 7,000 persons can be housed in the villages and the vicinity. Consequently the Passion Play committee has advised that visitors should remain only one or two days and then give way for others. Applications indicate the visitors will tax accommodations severely but it is said officially "all will be taken care of."

All sleeping and eating accommodations are under direct control of the village administration and steps have been taken to severely punish those who violate the regulations and the schedules of prices which will be available to all visitors.

Approximately 1,000 persons will participate in the play which continues from morning until evening. There are 800 regular players, 124 of them being soloists or with speaking parts. Many women and children participate.

The theater has a seating capacity of 4,300, the exact number for which overnight accommodations have been provided in the village.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

OLD TIME BENEVOLENCES

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)

Member Illinois State Historical Society

The Rev. John M. Ellis—of Illinois College fame—was "called" by the First Presbyterian church of Jacksonville in 1830, according to these official words: "The congregation of the Jacksonville church being on sufficient grounds well satisfied of the qualifications of you—John M. Ellis—and having good lessons from our experience of your labors, that you ministered to the Gospel will be justifiable to an spiritual interests do earnestly call and desire you to undertake the pastoral office in said congregation, promising you in the discharge of your duty all proper support, encouragement, accommodation and support in the Lord. ## COMMUNITY PROGRAM GIVEN AT WAVERLY

Farm Bureau Meeting Attracted Large Audience—Soil Demonstration Preceded Film.

A community meeting was held at the opera house in Waverly Tuesday under farm bureau auspices. It was attended by a large number of residents of Waverly and vicinity. County Agent G. B. Kendall drove to Waverly and gave a soil testing demonstration as the first part of the program.

Afterward came a discussion of some of the current questions in farming and a very interesting half hour was spent. Afterward the film "Out of the Shadows," which deals with the tuberculosis question in its relation to milk supply, was presented and afterward a second film, "Layers and Liars," which is a film story designed to emphasize the value of poultry raising.

Mr. Kendall found the roads in quite bad condition in a number of places between here and Waverly, as the result of the recent heavy rainfall. The large audience present manifested particular interest in the subject matter of "Out of the Shadows." It is interesting to note in this connection that the picture very strongly emphasizes some of the facts which are basic in the Jacksonville ordinance relating to milk supply.

The films are to be shown at Franklin this afternoon and at Lynville Thursday night. The public is cordially invited to both presentations.

FUNERALS

Cox. The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Frances Cox was held at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning from the Youngblood Baptist church, in charge of Rev. Roy March.

White Hall. Music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Fagua. There was an abundance of beautiful floral tributes and these $2; C. H. Perry, $2; C. Hook, $2.50; L. W. Graham, $3; A. M. Clark, $5; Jacob Barton, $3; William C. Posey, $12; J. M. Sturtevant, $3; W. C. Stevenson, $10; Lancelot Clark, $5; John Hill, $3; John J. Hardin, $5; Thomas B. Prentice, $10; B. Gillett, $8; Joseph Duncan, $15; James Graves, $5; S. D. Lockwood, $12.

These subscriptions were more liberal than the former ones. It will be observed that the names are also quite different in the two lists, and that quite a number soon became Congregationalists, as they probably had been.

Home Missionary Collection
In 1832 a collection was taken up for Home Missions, and the subscribers were largely the people given on the second subscription list above. It amounted to $195.50 in cash. William Sewall gave one third part of the production of three acres in wheat.

Change of Pastors.
Mr. Ellis was allowed to leave, too soon, Mr. Glover thought in his semi-centennial historical address.

Rev. Alfred H. Dashiell was installed as pastor in 1835.

A New Church
The Congregationalists of Jacksonville, like others of their faith in the West, worshipped with the Presbyterians up to the last of the year 1833, under the arrangement entered into by the highest judiciaries of the two denominations in 1801, known as "the Plan of Union."

The Jacksonville Congregational church was organized in the Methodist Episcopal church, then located on East Morgan street (north side), on Sunday, Dec. 15, 1833. "The sermon was preached by Rev. William Carter, a young licentiate, who was already engaged to be his pastor, but was not yet ordained," said Dr. Julian M. Sturtevant, at their semi-centennial in 1883.

Mr. Carter afterwards went to Pittsfield, Pike county, to the church there; which was probably his only other charge. He spent his after life there. Mr. Carter was a good preacher, and a fine and pleasant man, as known to a young boy in Perry.

The Membership

President Sturtevant, gave the following as the names of the members of the new church: T. Chamberlain (Sr.), Abraham Clark, Millicent Clark, Ellihu Wolcott, Jeremiah Graves, Mary Ann Graves, Benjamin Allyn, Cynthia M. Allyn, Edwin A. Mears, Sarah Mears, Maro M. L. Reed, (Dr.), Elizabeth L. Reed, Daniel Mann, Benjamin B. Chamberlain, Asa Talcott, Marie Talcott, Salem Town, Joseph and Eliza Town, Jesse B. Clark, Ralph Perry, R. B. Lord, James K. Morse, Edwin Schofield, George B. Hitecock, Elizabeth Scott, Mary Chamberlain, Abigail Chenery, Eliza Hart, Lino Town, Frances J. Wolcott, Agigail Graves, three days after, the following names were added: George T. Purkitt, C. S. Beach.

In September, 1835, these people got into their handsome new church, so they must have kept up their benevolences.

It was the first Congregational church in Illinois. It stood on the east side of the Square, where "Trade Palace" was.

CYRUS THE ELDER
CONDUCTED FIRST
POSTAL SYSTEM
Was in Operation in Persia in the Year of 599 B. C.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — The earliest known postal system was that of Cyrus the Elder, king of Persia in 599 B. C., according to the postoffice manual prepared here for use as a text book in the schools of the United States. The manual was compiled by Postmaster E. A. Purdy of Minneapolis and a group of specialists, in the postoffice, with the encouragement of Postmaster General Will Hayes and his successor, Dr. Hubert Work, in the belief that the diffusion of information about the postal system would save the government millions of dollars annually. Besides explaining the functions of the postoffice and most efficient ways of using it, the manual outlines the history of postal service.

King Cyrus according to the manual, maintained mounted couriers to dispatch messages from post to post. The book then relates that similar methods prevailed among the Romans during the time of Augustus, B. C. 1 and later in France under Charlemagne in 807, A. D. The first actual letter post for commercial purposes, however, it says, appears to have originated in the Hamse towns early in the twelfth century and a century later, the University of Paris established an efficient postal system. China also maintained a post system at an early date, about 1280.

Inception of the American postoffice came with its earliest settlement, the book narrates. It passed from the coffee-house letter depository to actual carrier when legislation was passed in Massachusetts in 1639 and Virginia in 1657. Under the late legislation, a house would be designated by colonial law as the appointed place "for all letters which are brought beyond the seas or are to be sent thither," the owner of which would receive a penny for every letter, but who must "answer all miscarriages through his own neglect." The colonial law of Virginia provided that every planter must keep a messenger to convey dispatches as they arrived, to the next plantation, "on pain for forfeiting a hoghead of tobacco for default."

Service in Early Days.

Gradually postal service was established along the coast between the several colonies, and in 1672 there was a monthly post from New York to Boston. In 1692 a private enterprise was granted to get up postal service in America. Thomas Neal, and the postal affairs of the colonies were thus conducted until 1710 when the postal service of the British Empire was consolidated into one organization, with New York its chief American office.

An early act of the Continental Congress established postoffices and routes Plymouth, Maine, to Savannah, Ga., the manual continues, and in 1737 Franklin was appointed postmaster at Philadelphia, and the first acting postmaster general in this country. In 1753 he was appointed deputy postmaster general for the colonies, which office he held until 1774 when he was dismissed because of his active sympathy with the colonists in their quarrel with the mother country. For a while following everything was in confusion, but in July 1775, the Continental Congress appointed Franklin the first American postmaster general to manage the postal service throughout the colonies. Then postage stamps were unknown and postage was paid in cash.

Continuing the textbook tells of the changes brought about when in 1834 letters were carried by steam railway. Four years later the railroads were declared by law as postroutes and in 1840 the traveling railway postoffice came into being. In 1847, use of stamps was authorized by the government and in 1855 the prepayment of postage made compulsory.

The sixteen highways mentioned by Mr. Beach are the Atlantic-Pacific Highway, Custer Battlefield Highway, Dixie Highway, Egyptian Trail, Glacier Trail, George Washington National Highway, International Peace Highway, Illinois Route No. 1, King of Trails, Lone Star Route, Mississippi River Scenic Highway, Mississippi Valley Highway, Ozark Trails, Pershing Way, Southern National Highway and the Wonderland Way.

CODE FOR ILLINOIS
STATE HIGHWAY PATROL

Rules Are Laid Down By the Division of Highways — Main Duty for Present.

Springfield, Ill. — (By The Associated Press.) — The code of the Illinois state highway patrol has been formulated.

Altho only a few patrol officers have been appointed and the system authorized by the 52nd general assembly has not been placed in effective operation thruout the state, rules for the officers have been laid down by the division of highways and sent to the men who form the nucleus of the state force.

The first section of the nineteen general orders requires all officers to report daily to their chief, John M. Stack at Kankakee.

The Illinois highway patrol is not a force for general police duties. The rules specifically instruct each officer to confine his activities to enforcement of the motor vehicle laws. He must not overstep these bounds unless called upon by law enforcement authorities and orders from his chief.

Until the force is increased and more thoroughly organized the patrol men have been ordered to concern themselves chiefly with enforcement of the provisions of the motor vehicle laws relating to the overloading of trucks.

When a highway patrolman encounters a truck which apparently is overloaded, his orders require him to direct the truck driver to the side of the road and stop while the truck is examined and weighed by the use of load meters. Before an overloaded truck shall be permitted to proceed the driver shall be required to unload part of his cargo to reduce the weight.

Other duties falling upon the patrolmen include that of keeping tractors and traction engines with "lugged" wheels off the paved roads of the state.

The orders suggest that highway patrolmen are not to devote their energies to arresting speeders. That work has been left to the regular "speed cops." On this subject the rules say: "It is not the intent that highway patrol officers insist rigidly upon the enforcement of speed limits. However, drivers who habitually or recklessly violate these provisions should be warned and if they persist they should be arrested."

Highway patrolmen are ordered for the present to confine their activities to paved roads outside the limits of cities and towns.

The rules caution the patrolmen to be courteous in their dealings with the traveling public and to aid motorists by giving them route directions, road conditions and other information.

Co-operation with investigators working under the direction of the secretary of state is also demanded of the patrolmen. All offenses against laws relating to motor vehicle licenses and bus in line schedules should be reported to the proper official; but the patrolmen are directed to make no arrests for such violations unless specifically authorized to do so.

"Use your authority in a conservative way and use good judgment in all your activities," is the final word to the new Illinois highway patrols from the department.

SOVIET ATTORNEY
GENERAL POPULAR

Is small in stature but biggest in popularity among Bolshevik leaders.

MOSCOW. — Nicolai V. Krylenko, Soviet Russia's Attorney general is probably the smallest son in stature and one of the biggest in popularity among the leaders of the Bolshevik regime.

He stands about five feet in his boots but, with his sturdy physique, grizzled tangle of iron gray hair and firm jaw, Krylenko is the terror of offenders against the Soviet laws and of the game birds, wolves, foxes and all other wild game in the vicinity of Moscow.

Krylenko is an enthusiastic huntsman, as in Nikolai Lenin, the Soviet premier and they frequently go shooting together. "I can hit a bird with a rifle and don't need a shotgun," Krylenko told the correspondent in an interview in his office, which is decorated with wolf pelts and other hunting trophies. Immediately after the Bolshevik gained power, Krylenko was made commander of the Russian army. Later on when Trotsky, now Minister of War, took command of the army, about the time of the treason Brest-Litovsk making peace with Germany, Krylenko was appointed to the supreme revolutionary tribunal and has since held that post.

Krylenko is married and has two children. He lives in Moscow in a big, well furnished house where he also has his office. He wears rough corduroy jackets, baggy trousers and soft colored shirts. He had at least a week's growth of beard on his face.

He was very active in bringing about the abolishment of the "Cheka", or committee to combat counter-revolution.

"Sterling"

Do You Know Exactly What it Means?

The word "Sterling" when applied to articles of silver means that they are of SOLID SILVER—925-1000 pure.

It is generally known and understood that there are many articles of SOLID SILVER, but do not know the real meaning of the word "Sterling," and invariably ask, when looking at such an article "Is it solid silver?"

"Sterling" is not merely a figurative adjective to be applied to a man or woman, but is an actual trade name used by manufacturers of silver to designate its absolute pure quality.

An article in silver marked "Sterling" has with it an unsailable guarantee as to its quality, and therefore its durability.

We are showing many of the newer designs in "Sterling" most suited to wedding gifts.

PAGE PROVES TOO FAST FOR JOFFRE

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 25.—The stamina which enabled Marshal Joffre to push back the Germans after five days steady fighting on the Marne, fell today before an hour's lecture on Moliere, at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel.

While Maurice Donnay, director of the French Academy of arts was speaking at the Tercentary celebration of the French playwright, Marshal Joffre a guest of honor seated on the platform, nodded and fell asleep.

He awoke with a start, gazed in astonishment at the audience, yawned, brushed his hand over his face—and a few moments later dozed again. Ambassador Jusserand, who sat next to him leaned over and whispered. The marshal smiled. But his sturdy resistance had been hard pressed by the constant round of fetes and entertainments since he began his tour of the country and he nodded again.

This was the high point of a hard day for the hero of the early part of the war. He left soon after, went back to his hotel and there picked up a little much needed rest before going to a hotel where tonight he was the guest of the city in one of the biggest banquets the city has ever held for an honored guest.

COLLINS RETURNS FOR CONFERENCE

(By The Associated Press)
DUBLIN, April 25.—Michael Collins, head of the provisional government returned to Dublin today from Tralee in readiness for the resumption of the conference between the adherents of the government and the Eamonn DeValera looking to peace.

The belief was expressed here tonight that the protest of labor which culminates in Monday's one day strike has had no effect in influencing the leaders on either side of the controversy to yield the viewpoints.

The Dail Eireann also will meet tomorrow at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. There is not expected, however, to be a full attendance.

RECOVERY FROM 1921 DEPRESSION INDICATED

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 25.—Slow but certain recovery from the extreme depression of 1921 in the steel and iron industry was indicated by the statement of the United States Steel corporation for the first quarter of the current year issued today.

Not all of the preferred dividend for that period was earned and the directors had to take $6,749,468 from the undivided surplus to meet the $12,658,700 required to pay the regular dividends on the preferred and common shares.

Total earnings of $19,339,985 compared with $19,612,033 in the previous quarter and net income of $10,975,636 was less by $346,316, leaving a balance applicable to dividends of only $5,909,232.

The encouraging features of the statement are contained in the monthly operations. Earnings for January were below those of last December but February showed a substantial recovery and March improved by almost 40 percent over the previous month.

Chairman Elbert H. Gary announced the election of E. J. Buffington, president of the Illinois Steel company as a director to replace the late George W. Perkins.

DENISON BLUE SKY BILL MAY BE PASSED

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 25.—Denison Blue Sky bill, designed to lighten up state laws prohibiting the sale of wild cat securities, was taken up to day by the house. Little opposition is foreseen and the house is expected to pass it this week. The measure which was reported unanimously by the interstate commerce committee, was explained in detail by Representative Denison, Republican, Illinois, the author and other committeemen. Specifically it would prohibit the shipment from one state to another of securities of a character prohibited in the latter state.

"In principle, the bill simply supplements existing state laws," Mr. Duncan said, "and provides for federal co-operation with the states in suppressing a recognized national evil to the extent of forbidding the use of the federal interstate commerce agencies for the purpose of evading and violating the state laws."

ASKS PEOPLE NOT TO RELY ON PRESS STORIES

(By The Associated Press)
GENOA, April 25.—Premier Lloyd George today requested the British press to appeal to the British public to disbelieve anything it reads in the London Times and the London Daily Mail concerning the Genoa conference. The premier asserted that the Daily Mail had printed a statement that he had conferred secretly with Leonid Krassin, one of the Russian delegates and promised to wipe out the Russian war debts. This and many other statements which Mr. Lloyd George alleges were untrue, have appeared in the London Times and the Daily Mail and have misled the British and French public.

CREMATION SHOWS LARGE INCREASE

London.—Cremation is increasing in Great Britain, according to figures given out at the annual meeting of the Cremation Society of England. For the first time in its history of over 50 years, the meeting was presided over by a woman, Mrs. Spencer Graves.

Last year 1922 cremations took place at the 14 crematoria in the country, that of Golders Green, in London, heading the list with 833. Among those cremated last year were judges, bishops, surgeons, peeresses, members of parliament, journalists, artists, soldiers, sailors and eminent women social workers.

The cremation of the late Duchess of Connaught by her specific instructions was an innovation in royal obsequies but the reform has always had strong supporters among English nobility. The Duke of Bedford, son of the founders of the society, has erected a crematory for the sole use of his dual house.

The present cost of cremation in England is roughly $30. Urns to hold the ashes are rarely used, the general practice being to scatter the ashes in the so-called "Gardens of Rest" adjoining the crematoria.

RELIGION WILL NOT FAIL LADY ASTOR SAYS

(By The Associated Press)
BALTIMORE, Md., April 25.—Immediately upon her return tonight from New York Lady Astor sat before Secretary Hoover and Governor Ritchie as guest of honor at a dinner given by the Maryland League of Women Voters which was attended by 1500 men and women from all parts of the country.

She urged the women here to take part in the national convention of the League of Women Voters to fight "as mothers" against the "organized interests that poison politics."

Then Lady Astor put a plain black cloak over her evening gown and her pearls and rushed to the Associated Congregational church where she addressed a church congress. To the congregation of about 1,000 she said that although she believed that Christianity was failing, it had not failed and it was "the only thing in the world that would not fail."

MORE SERIOUS DIFFERENCES ARISE

Belfast, April 25.—Serious differences have arisen between the northern and provisional governments over the appointment of a joint commission for railway affairs, provided for in the February agreement. The provisional government today nominated its men independently of the northern government.

ADULT HONEY BEES IN FOR HARD TIME
Washington, April 25.—There's a sting in the bill introduced today by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska. It would bar adult immigrant honey bees seeking to enter the United States from any foreign country where a bee disease is prevalent. No mention is made as to restrictions against minor or infant bees originating in such foreign countries.

METHODIST MINISTERS IN CONFERENCE HERE

M. E. Ministers of Jacksonville District Met Here Tuesday to Discuss Various Problems—Dr. Carmine of Bloomington Speaks.

Various problems which present themselves to Methodist ministers of the Jacksonville district were discussed at a conference of the ministers of the district held in this city Tuesday. At noon the visitors had luncheon at the Loop Cafe and later went to Grace church for the business session.

Dr. E. L. Pletcher, the district superintendent, presided and presented briefly some of the problems which now confront the church, including ministerial support, benevolences, conference claims and various educational problems.

The main address of the afternoon was by Rev. Mr. Carmine, financial secretary of Wesleyan university at Bloomington. The speaker made a strong plea for generosity on the part of the people to maintain the religious and educational interests of the denomination. Dr. Carmine referred to his own career in the ministry, which profession he entered after giving up a promising career in another field. He told this story to emphasize the point that ministers frequently make great personal sacrifices for the cause they represent, and the speaker declared that the layman should also make sacrifices for Christ's kingdom.

Among reports made was one from the church at Roodhouse. This organization recently raised a $3,000 fund of approximately $3,000 and also contributed $485 to Evangelist D. C. Linton for the recent revival there. Grace church in this city reported a total of thirty-five accessions on Easter Sunday and Centenary church fourteen on the same day.

HI Y CLUB HELD REGULAR MEETING

Boys met at Congregational Church Monday Evening—Will Camp at Rotary Cottage May 27 to June 2.

About 55 members of the Hi Y club met last night at Congregational church. Supper was served by the ladies of the church who were heartily cheered for the report.

At this time a self analysis campaign was started under the guidance of Mr. Finley. Blanks were given out to be filled in. These questions are to find out each boy's personal tastes and thus discover what each one is best fitted for. The questionnaire asks for the boy's favorite magazines, studies, books, hobbies, favorite occupations and for what he is best fitted. Later on experts in the different occupations will interview each boy and try to help him to choose the work he seems best fitted for and desires most as his life work.

Mr. Finley announced that the Hi Y camp which had been previously planned for the Lake Manitowish would be held instead at the Rotary Cottage at Meredosia from May 27 to June 3.

After a short period of Bible study the meeting was turned over to President Arter who called for a motion to adjourn.

NOAH IS DISCHARGED IN JURY TRIAL

Was Accused of Operating Still Near Concord—Tony DeFrates Enters Plea of Guilty to Liquor Charge—Fined $100 and Costs.

In the county court yesterday the jury which heard the evidence in the case of Claude Noah accused of illegal ownership of a still and maintaining a nuisance, was found not guilty. Before the proceedings began, State's Attorney Robinson dismissed the case against Reynolds, as the evidence against him was not strong.

At the previous term when the defendants were tried jointly the jury disagreed.

The case of Manuel Darnish, charged with violation of the liquor law, was continued to the next term on account of the inability of the state's attorney to locate certain material witnesses.

Tony DeFrates, living on King street, who is charged with liquor selling appeared before Judge Samuel and entered a plea of guilty. He was given a fine of $100 and costs. State's Attorney Robinson secured evidence against DeFrates thru a special investigation. Subsequently an injunction was issued against the property which DeFrates was occupying under a provision of the prohibition enforcement act.

TO BUILD FINE ORGAN FOR CHRISTIAN CHURCH

FUND IS ASSURED AND CONTRACT LET.

Pastoral Helpers Keep Up Good Record and Pledge $7000 Toward $12,000 Cost—Great Instrument Will Be Ready Sept. 1st—Pipe Organ History of the Church.

The contract for a new organ for Central Christian church has been awarded to the Austin Organ Co., of Hartford, Conn. This great instrument will cost about $12,000 and when completed September 1, will be one of the finest in central Illinois.

It is worthy of note that this splendid church enterprise is already so far toward consummation because of the fine enthusiasm of the Pastoral Helpers of the church. The Pastoral Helpers made a pledge of $7,000 toward the fund, and already have a substantial part of that sum raised and in cash. It is proposed to secure the additional $5,000 by pledges from individuals and due in one, two and three years, and the work of securing these pledges will be pushed forward rapidly.

The plan for the securing of the pipe organ was ratified by the congregation at a meeting held Sunday, April 16, and no time was lost in the making of the contract.

The Pastoral Helpers

The Pastoral Helpers of Central Christian church make up an organization of unusual strength. The society has made a number of important contributions to the church. It was due to the work of the Pastoral Helpers that the heating plant of the entertainment hall and basement was replaced and the redecoration of the basement and auditorium was possible because of the fund provided by this organization. A new lighting system was installed throughout, boulevard lights placed on Church street and College avenue and various improvements made in the parsonage.

Aside from these things, directly associated with the church the Pastoral Helpers have furnished a room at Passavant hospital, have made liberal donations to the Old People's home and undertaken other work from a Jacksonville viewpoint.

The officers of the Pastoral Helpers are as follows: Mrs. Lillian King, President; Mrs. E. R. Litter, First Vice President; Mrs. Keith Montgomery, Second Vice President; Mrs. W. T. Clark, Secretary; Mrs. George T. Douglas, Treasurer; Miss Carrie Rataichak, Assistant Treasurer; Mrs. C. L. Mathis, General Chairman; The Chairmen of the seven different circles are, Mrs. Charles Hopper, Mrs. S. W. Babb, Mrs. Charles Cully, Mrs. Homer Ransom, Mrs. Keith Montgomery, Mrs. Charles Scott and Miss Lizzie Rataichak.

Organ Committee Named

The new pipe organ committee was appointed Sept. 26, 1921 and the members represent both the Pastoral Helpers and the official body of the church. The committee includes Mrs. Lillian King, Mrs. Keith Montgomery, Mrs. J. W. Litter, Miss Elizabeth Rataichak, Mrs. C. L. Mathis, George T. Douglas, Dr. Charles Hopper, Dr. George Bradley, and Frank H. Plouer.

Soon after its appointment this committee began the active work in the effort to secure an organ worthy of the church and the place it is to fill in Jacksonville. The committee was assisted in selecting the instrument by Mr. Edwin N. Miller of Peoria, an expert organ architect. With the aid of his services, the committee investigated the organ field very thoroughly. A number of other cities were visited and organs inspected. Then after covering the field thoroughly, bids were received from seven of the best builders in the country. Then from these competitive bids with the advice of Mr. Miller the proposal of the Austin organ Co., of Hartford, Conn., was accepted.

It is a little known fact that the business of pipe organ building is in a very active state and has been so all through the general period of depression. Great organs in these recent years and months have been placed in many theaters and a municipal organ is now a matter of not infrequent occurrence. So the committee found upon investigation that the best manufacturers are all very busy and that it will take at least four or five months time for the completion of the contract.

A Modern Organ

The organ which is to be erected here will contain twenty-six stops and 1385 speaking pipes, 22 couplers and 20 sets of chimneys. Its construction will include all the latest improvements which have assured value. Some other specifications are also given:

Air Chest—The air is supplied by a five horse power motor driving the air into the Austin Universal Air Chest system, for the invention of which Mr. John T. Austin has recently been given a medal of merit by the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia. Easy access may be had to the chest, which is brilliantly lighted, so that while the instrument is being played one may witness the opening and closing of the valves leading to the pipes. The accessibility is one of the leading features of the Austin organ.

Pipes—Pipes vary in length from the top note of the piccolo—smaller than a soda straw and less than 1-4 inch in length—to the large Open Diapason Pedal 16 feet in length and two feet or more square. Various kinds of different wood and alloys of tin, lead, zinc and brass constitute the materials of which the pipes are made. The beautiful quality of tone, the individuality of each stop is due to the hand work of the expert "voicer". The artistic quality of the tone of the organ is ensemble and sole effects depends upon the skill and taste displayed in the department of construction.

Some Pipe Organ History

It is interesting to note in this connection that the old pipe organ society of the church was organized in the fall of 1894, when the church building was on East State street. The officers at that time were Mrs. Lillian King, then Mrs. S. D. Osborne, president; Mrs. A. L. Duckett, vice president; Mrs. Kate Cassell Stout, secretary; Mrs. Walter Humphreys, treasurer. The organ was built by the Cole and Woodbury Co. of Boston. The organ was completed and used eight years in the building on East State street. When the church was made to the new Central Christian church the organ was rebuilt and the expenses born by Mr. W. L. Fay. The organ has given excellent service through the sixteen years since it was rebuilt. But the church has felt that the time has come for a new and larger instrument. A number of the present Pastoral Helpers served in the society when the first organ was built and they still have the fine enthusiasm that brought success for the first organ proposal. So they are ready and willing to do their part for the larger achievement, and are very certain of having the cordial assistance of the general church membership.

OPTIMISM RULES AT BIG ELI PLANT

W. E. Sullivan Tells How Company Built Forty Wheels Without an Order on Books—Had Confidence in Future and Won.

An example of optimism and confidence that all is right in the world, and that business can and will be done all the time if looked at in the right manner and gone after in a proper spirit is that shown by W. E. Sullivan and associates of the Eli Bridge Company of this city, makers of the Big Eli wheels.

"A number of months ago the outlook was rather dark and discouraging," said Mr. Sullivan. "Business was poor with those who traveled thruout the country providing outdoor amusements and in consequence it almost seemed that we would be obliged to curtail our operations and lay off many of our men. This I greatly disliked to do, and not being one that is given much to worrying and believing strongly that conditions would soon right themselves I decided on what would seem to many a most radical and suicidal course—continuing our entire force at work full time and doubling our production for the year."

Studied Steel Market

In commenting on the problem presented and its working out Mr. Sullivan said Tuesday that after going into the matter thoroly with his business associates he sent their steel buyer to Chicago to study the steel market and to find out just what arrangements could be made for delivery direct from the factory of the amounts needed. This man returned with the statement that markets were uncertain but that the seller agreed to protect the local company against fall in prices.

At this time there was not an order on hand for a single wheel, but it was decided that forty standard wheels would be made as rapidly as the factory equipment and force would permit, this being double the usual annual quota. On January 1st of this year the entire number were ready for shipment, but still no orders. A conference of the company executives was called and after hearing the opinions of those men Mr. Sullivan said, "Men, there is just one thing left to do and that is cut the price. This must be done sooner or later, and why not now when we have been able to save money thru quantity production and lowered steel prices."

Cut Price of Product

The price per wheel was cut substantially and word was sent out thru the country to various amusement men by means of an optimistic letter calling attention to the approaching of better times and the necessity for going after business properly equipped if business was wanted. With this letter was enclosed a new Big Eli price list.

What has been the result? Simply this, that every one of the double quota of forty wheels has been placed and the company today is five wheels behind with its orders.

Mr. Sullivan has had long years in the amusement business and knows the peculiarities and frequent fickleness of the public, and how quick it is to withhold patronage for apparently no good reason whatever. He cited an example of a man operating one of his smaller wheels this spring in the southern part of this state. This man had written to Mr. Sullivan telling him how poor business was and how discouraged he was becoming because weather continued bad and the public didn't seem to "take hold" at all.

Killed Own Business

Mr. Sullivan went to see the man, looked over the field and studied his wheel and the man's personal attitude and in a flash the answer came to him. The man was killing his own business. "In the first place," said Mr. Sullivan, "you need a new and larger wheel, and you must quit going around talking, looking and acting as tho you were broke and everything was going to the demition bow-wows; the public shys away from the unsuccessful and the down-and-outer; its attitude may not be right, but it is so." That showman got the idea, ordered a new and larger wheel, cut out his hard times talk and from that date has been doing a most satisfactory business.

"A vision, confidence in your public and your country, and just a little nerve at the right time," says Mr. Sullivan, "and a man hardly will fail."

HIGH WATER AT LAKE MATANZAS

A great many local people have been wondering just what are water conditions at Lake Matanzas. A letter received yesterday from Mrs. J. L. V. Davis, who is resident there, says that the water is now three feet deep in the hotel building and dancing pavilion. The water level has not reached any of the Jacksonville cottages, altho it is within a few feet of Elsinore cottage.

People familiar with the Lake Matanzas surroundings will be interested in knowing that "Uncle Billy" Brockaway has been compelled by flood conditions to remove from his cottage and is now quartered at the Starkweather home. A Matanzas picture owned by Dr. H. L. Griswold which is now on view in the Douglas grocery window shows the lake at normal low water time, and a glance at the picture shows how great is the contrast with present conditions.

(The Arcade)JAPANESE STATESMAN DISCUSSES CONFERENCE

Newspaper Published at Kobe Presents Interesting Viewpoint Mockizuki Says Japan Was Ticked By Cleverness of U. S. and Great Britain.

An interesting view of the recent Washington conference is given in a Japanese newspaper, a copy of which was recently received by William N. Haigrove, from his brother-in-law, Mark S. Sanders, who has been resident in Japan for twelve years past. Mr. Sanders, an engineer, is superintendent of construction for the Truscon Steel Co. of Japan and has his office in Kobe, Japan.

The article was printed originally in the Japanese language and was then translated into an English newspaper published in Kobe and it is a copy of this paper that Mr. Sanders sent. The article suggests "America's lack of sincerity" and takes the view that Japan was tricked into the matter of the naval ratio by the cleverness of America and Great Britain.

The article is based upon the statements of Mr. Kataro Mochizuki, a member of the minority political party of Japan, who was in Washington not as a delegate to the conference but to watch its progress.

In one paragraph the Japanese "statesman" refers to an interview he had with Secretary Hughes about the naval strength of Japan and says that after one of his remarks "Mr. Hughes turned red and could not answer." That one sentence is sufficient to also discredit the remainder of the Mochizuki views, for he evidently looks thru both prejudiced and unseeing eyes. Some paragraphs from the statement are appended.

Failure of Japan's Diplomacy.

"Let me now substantiate the foregoing remarks by simple facts. America has now become the central factor both in the economic system of the world and international politics. In respect of her international relations she has succeeded in arriving at a mutual understanding with all the English-speaking nations and has formed a perfect ring with Britain, Canada and Australia. As for her national defence, she has obtained the thorough understanding of Britain on the Atlantic, and on the Pacific she has compelled Japan to agree to the naval agreement proposed by America. Furthermore, she has excluded the Hawaiian Islands from the Pacific fortification agreement on the pretext that it is a part of her mainland. Moreover, as regards the mandate over the insular possessions south and north of the equator, she has secured a point of vantage. On the Chinese question, America has acted as if she were delivering a judgment after hearing plaintiff and defendant in a Court of Law, thereby winning the appreciation of China, but not forgetting to take into consideration the interests of the European powers concerned. Thus she has succeeded in paving the way for her economic activities in China.

"Secondly, Britain politely explained the necessity of ending her alliance with Japan and warmly shook hands with America, which has been the cherished desire of Britain. In this manner she has succeeded in enlisting the political and financial support of America in Britain's European policy.

"Thirdly, to explain the attitude of France in a few words, Premier Briand courageously took up a stand against Britain, and in an eloquent speech he artfully hinted the grievance of France, or, in rebuttal of Britain's statement that she required 500,000 tons of capital ships, Premier Briand said: 'Britain's desire to maintain such a large navy for the peace of the world is presumably for the purpose of fishing saildines; then shall France, too, build submarines to exploit the creatures of the deep.' The rally used by Premier Briand, while signifying France's future relation with Britain, may be taken as a refutation of the self-proclaimed humanitarianism of America, which, in company with Britain, has tacitly withdrawn her assurance of support to France against German revenge promised by President Wilson, and indeed there is a deep meaning between the lines of Premier Briand's utterance.

"Italy, too, while craving at heart for Britain's friendship, insisted on having the same naval ratio as that of France in consideration of her geographical proximity to the Adriatic. Thus Italy also persisted in safeguarding her own interests. In view of this situation I cannot but urge the so-called Japanese humanitarians who worship Britain and America to reflect.

"What then has Japan accomplished? Upon my return home I was indeed astonished at the complete failure of Japan. The fundamental cause of her failure is to be found in the selection of an anachronistic delegation. In view of the bitter experiences Japan has had in the past at different international gatherings, including the Paris Conference, her so-called representatives, had the Government sent to the Washington Conference men capable of grasping every opportunity to declare publicly the cause of Japan in such a way as it would appeal to the conscience of the world's peoples, Japan could have achieved her aims, and moreover could have done much to dispel the misgivings of other Powers that Japan is a militaristic country.

"There is a large discrepancy in the figures of the existing naval strength of each country as worked out by American and Japanese naval experts. At least Japan's figures are correct, while America's figures cannot be accepted by Japan as they are, and it is incumbent upon America to make her calculation clear to Japan so as to convince her of the accuracy of America's figures. Japan has no intention of obstructing the success of the Conference by deliberately bringing about an impasse. The question of 7 or 6 ratio is of secondary consideration. The first and foremost importance is for the statesmen assembled at Washington to show sincerity of purpose, and it is up to the American delegation to explain thoroughly how it has arrived at the ratio it has designated. Only by so doing can an atmosphere of confidence, which is most essential to the success of the Conference and which is an integral part of enduring world peace, be created at the Conference table.

"I also emphatically denounced the lack of sincerity on the part of the American naval authorities, and when I had an interview with Secretary Hughes I remarked: 'The existing naval strength probably means the existing fighting power, in which case Japan's Mutsumi is on the active list, but America is trying to kill the Mutsumi, which is actually active, and for her own quota she has included what is going to be completed. That is exactly what I cannot understand, and that is why the Japanese people are resentful. Can one having four children say he has five because there will shortly be another? I should like you to explain to me fully on what basis the ratio of 5-5-3 has been arrived at, for if this question should be clearly established, the Japanese people would not be excited.' Upon this remark Mr. Hughes turned red and could not answer.

"As the nature of the Washington Conference is not such as to justify any one dictating the naval ratio to another, as has been actually done, I availed myself of every opportunity to point out publicly the impropriety of America's attitude. I feel confident that the Japanese delegation frankly appealed to the conscience of the world for Japan's fair and reasonable demand, Japan would not have failed at the Conference but the Japanese delegation did nothing else then to indulge in fruitless bargaining. It was a shame to see the crafty attitude of Baron Kato, Japan's chief delegate, who let Vice-Admiral Kato, the chief naval expert, declare on the 29th of November that 70 per cent was the minimum defense instead of doing so himself. Moreover, Tokugawa (Mr. Mochizuki) is so indignant that he has omitted the title of "Prince" in referring to Prince Tokugawa (thruout this article) indulged himself in an unnecessary talk which disclosed lack of unity among the members of the Japan-

MASONIC PAPER WAS FIRST PUBLICATION

Masonic Monitor Was First Printed in Mexico in 1862—Other English Papers Found in Mexican Republic.

MEXICO CITY.—Organization of the "Society of Old Timers," recruited from Americans and Britishers who have resided in Mexico for more than 20 years, has revealed some interesting history in connection with the activities of English-language newspapers here since the republic was founded.

The Masonic Monitor, devoted to the cause of Masonry, was the first newspaper printed in English to appear in Mexico after its independence was achieved. It was founded in 1826 and edited by the Rev. Joseph Poinsette, the United States Minister to Mexico, whose journalistic efforts were incidental to his diplomatic duties.

The first newspaper of general information to make its appearance was the American Star, founded by Bernard and Brennan in Vera Cruz during the occupation of that city by General Winfield Scott. When the American forces moved to Mexico City the American Star followed the colors and for a year was published as a weekly.

Some interesting data may be obtained from the files of this paper. Frequent reference is made to the social activities of Captain Robert E. Lee and Lieutenant Ulysses S. Grant, who judging from the society columns were well known throughout the capital. "Parson" Jackson, who during the civil war achieved greatness as the immortal "Stonewall" also broke into print frequently.

Perhaps the most conspicuous example of the English language newspaper ever found in the republic was the Mexican Herald, whose first issue appeared in 1895. It fell afoul of the Carranza administration in 1916 and its Editor, Paul Hudson, closed up shop. The Herald was the first newspaper in Mexico to use a leased wire for a general foreign news report.

Throughout the past twenty years numerous trade papers have appeared, some lasting only a few months and a few several years. Among these was the Mexican Pioneer, Modern Mexico, Mexican Traveler, Mexican Trader and the Daily Record. The latest effort to print a substantial newspaper in English has been made by Felix Palavicini, editor of El Universal who last June started the Mexican Post, which aims to give an American slant to Mexican news.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the friends and neighbors for their sympathy and the many beautiful flowers which were sent at the time of the death of our wife and mother, James Cooper and family and Grandchildren.

One delegation, Baron Kato himself only proposed the 7 ratio demand in the early part of December, and after a month of adhesion to the 7 ratio demand, he finally yielded to the original ratio of 5 proposed by America.

"Trying to comprehend the trend of the world with the limited knowledge of a soldier such as Baron Kato has, is as difficult a proposition as for a camel to go thru the eye of a needle, and the reckless action of Tokugawa mentioned above further aggravated Japan's position to the serious detriment of her prestige and honor."

Can You Pass the Examination?

Many men expect to increase their life insurance within the next few years. Many of these same men who today could pass the life insurance examination will be rejected later because of impairment of health that the next few years will bring on, entirely unknown to them.

It is, therefore, a good plan to buy your life insurance when you can get it.

For those who expect to add to their life insurance later on account of being unable to pay the premium of old line insurance at the present time, there is a particular policy they can secure now, costing from $10 to $15 per thousand, per year. In later years this policy can be exchanged for an old line policy without a medical examination. Meanwhile, if you die the full face of the policy is paid by the company.

With dependable insurance at this price, it is too cheap to be without and at the same time does away with the medical examination later when you want to buy your insurance.

You can start a savings account, buy building and loan shares, property, etc., whenever you have the money and the desire. When you buy life insurance you must have these and more; for you must always pass the examination.

For particulars relative to this kind of insurance, call or see.

Embodying An Ideal of Service

IDEALISM combined with practical efficiency are the motives inspiring the 25,000 men and women who make up the personnel of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The ideal of production is to create petroleum products as nearly perfect as is humanly possible. The expression of this ideal in tangible form has resulted in a vast and superlatively efficient service to 25 million people in 11 Middle Western States.

To perform this service our complete refineries are working 24 hours every day.

At the Whiting Plant alone the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) employs more than 3,500 people and has an annual capacity of 14,600,000 bbls. of crude oil

7,750,000 bbls. of gasoline
2,190,000 bbls. of refined oil
1,800,000 bbls. of lubricating oil
35,000 tons of refined wax
100,000 tons of asphalt products
14,000 tons of candles
2,500 tons of parowax
24,000 tons of grease

These plants are the visible expression of an ideal. To bring them to their present degree of efficiency required years of time, intensive training, wide experience and almost limitless resources.

The seven men who guide the affairs of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are planning constantly new methods and more ways to achieve greater effectiveness in serving the people depending upon the Company for petroleum products.

These men are working to perfect a complete service—first by manufacturing a maximum number of useful petroleum products and second by maintaining a complete system of distribution which shall carry these products to the consumer whenever and wherever he may have need for them.

WEEKLY CROP REPORT FOR GREENE COUNTY

Garden and Plowing Operations Under Way After Week of Fair Weather — Frosts Did Not Injure Fruit Prospects.

White Hall, April 24.—Gardening and general plowing operations were getting under headway today as a show and rain, the first precipitation for the week ending today, according to the weekly crop and weather report of this station of the weather bureau. The sunshine has been inadequate but the higher ground had become in condition for working and some plowing had been accomplished, since last Friday. The condition of winter wheat on the drained upland remains excellent, constituting the major portion of the wheat acreage of Greene county, while on lower land its condition has become permanently damaged and turned yellow. It is estimated that the floods along the Illinois river in Greene county have ruined 10,000 acres of wheat. Trees are leaved and apple, peach and pear trees are in bloom. Frosts during the past week did not injure fruit.

The crest of the Illinois river at Grand Pass at Pearl, was reached on the 19th at 23 feet 1 inch. This is the highest since the present system of recording began, the next highest being 25 feet 5 inches in 1858 and the highest record 26 feet 1 inch in 1844. The levee embankment of the Hillview Levee and Drainage District is the only main works standing on the river front in Greene county, protecting 14,000 acres. It lies north of the C. & A. railroad. South of the C. & A. the Hartwell District of 9,000 acres, has been gradually filling with flood waters since last Thursday, when the levee protecting against Apple Creek on the south gave way. The 11,000 acres of the Fairbanks district were flooded the week previously. Already plans are under way for raising the Hillview district levee three feet for ten miles along the Illinois river, and it is to be strengthened by building revetments to throw the current away from the embankment.

The uninterrupted operation of the C. & A. railroad over the Illinois river is a high compliment upon the engineering department of that railroad system. The C. & A. is the only road to maintain service on the Illinois river south of Peoria, it being in condition to cope with the record breaking flood of the present time. The carrying out of the engineering work in this section during the winter is a matter of greatest importance in engineering circles as well as to the general public, in the achievement of tentative plans for the rehabilitation of the system under the guidance of such an able engineer as George T. Douglas, Jr. The engineering department of the C. & A. has been closely associated with the promoters of the Hillview reclamation district. No one now believes that the proposed cut-off will take a course south from Grand Pass through Wilkerville and Hypress, as has been surveyed.

WORK ON HARD ROAD IN PROGRESS

Read Between Jacksonville and Lynnville to be Built This Year To Advertise for Bids in Thirty Days.

President R. Y. Rowe of the Chamber of Commerce has been in conference with Colonel C. R. Miller, and Don Garrison of the State Department of Public Works and Buildings, in regard to the state bond issue from Jacksonville to Lynnville. They advise that the field survey for the proposed road has been completed and they are now engaged in the office work, on details, elevation and other matters in regard to the new highway. The officials in charge expect to have the plans ready to receive bids within the next thirty days. If the plans develop as is anticipated the new road will be under construction by the first of July.

The work on the state bond issue road from the Illinois river to Pittsfield is progressing very well. The road crew, in charge of the construction work have, however, been more or less handicapped by the high water.

GOVERNMENT FACTS ABOUT INSURANCE

Director of Veterans Bureau Presents Some Interesting Statistics—Insurance in Force Runs to Three and a Half Billion.

The annual statement of the condition of Government Life Insurance just made by Col. Charles R. Forbes, Director of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, reveals some interesting facts and figures. The Veterans of the World War are carrying insurance with the Government aggregating approximately $3,500,000,000. These veterans who have converted their War Term Insurance into one or more of the six forms of Government Life Insurance will come in for the dividends apportioned for 1922, which amounts to $1,730,000, according to the statement issued by the Director. These dividends on a $10,000 policy range from $15.30 on a first year dividend on an ordinary life issued at age of 20 to as high as $21.30 on a third year dividend on a 20-Year Endowment issued at age 60. Another interesting point brought out in Col. Forbes' statement was that without personal solicitation on the part of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau approximately 600,000 service men were continuing their insurance either as yearly renewable term or converted insurance. The cost of administration and the excess losses due to the extra hazards of military service are borne by the Government.

Yearly Renewable Term Insurance against total permanent disability or death was provided by an Amendment to the War Risk Insurance Act, approved October 6, 1917. This insurance was issued at a premium rate, computed for payment on a monthly basis, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per centum per annum. The Act provides that the Government would bear the cost of administration and the excess mortality due to the hazards of war.

The Act also provides that the Term Insurance could be continued for five years after the termination of the war as declared by proclamation of the President of the United States. The termination of the war was declared as of March 3, 1921 by Joint Resolution, consequently all Yearly Renewable Term (War Time Insurance) will cease on March 3, 1926, and if protection is desired beyond the period, it will be necessary that the Term Insurance be converted into one or more of the forms of level premium insurance (converted insurance) provided.

Applications for Yearly Renewable Term Insurance were submitted by approximately 4,500,000 persons in the service, aggregating a total of about $10,000,000,000 of insurance, approximately $9000 each. Shortly after the Armistice was signed on November 11, 1918, demobilization began and the men in the Army, Navy and Marine Corps were rapidly discharged, so that by a year later the number of men in the service had been reduced to a very low number with the original number of entrants. The average age of those in the service at the time of the Armistice was under 24 years and the signing of the Armistice in the minds of most of them eliminated all need for insurance. The danger was then over from their viewpoint and it is extremely improbable that the major portion of the original amount of insurance could have been continued, even if personal solicitation methods had been used. Very young and healthy men see little need for insurance and when they do purchase, it is usually in small amounts. The fact that they had finished their term of service in a dangerous occupation and were returning to civil pursuits, the payment of insurance premiums seemed a useless expense.

Many Continue Insurance
Notwithstanding these facts and the further fact that the Government did not employ the method of personal solicitation, there are at this time, approximately 600,000 persons continuing their insurance, either as Yearly Renewable Term or Converted. The total amount of insurance represented is approximately $3,500,000,000.

The Government's liability under Yearly Renewable Term Insurance on account of total permanent disability and death is approximately $12,000,000,000 (commuted value on a 1-2 per cent interest basis) and the total amount of premiums received on this form of insurance is approximately $400,000,000, therefore, the computed value of the claim exceeds the amount of premiums received by approximately $800,000,000, and as the benefits under Term Insurance are payable in monthly installments of $5.75 for each $1000 of insurance covering a period of 240 months, the Government will ultimately pay in benefits, $1580 for each $1000 of insurance, aggregating a sum of over $1,000,000,000 more than the amount received in premiums on account of Yearly Renewable Term Insurance (War Time Insurance) which is directly due to the hazards of war.

The fact that the premium for Yearly Renewable Term Insurance increases yearly as the insured grows older and becomes prohibitive at the older ages, the privilege of conversion was provided by the War Risk Insurance Act. The Act was further amended on December 24, 1919, which amendment authorized the United States Government Life Insurance Fund. The condition of this Fund as of December 31, 1921, is shown by the annual statement as follows:

Annual Statement

Unassigned funds	1,689,499.40
Total Liabilities	$45,515,362.12

Upon the basis of this showing and the recommendation of an eminent consulting actuary, $1,750,000 has been apportioned for the purpose of paying dividends during the year 1922. The dividend will range from a first year dividend on an ordinary life of $1.53 for each $1000, issued at age 20, to $2.13 as a third year dividend on a 20 year endowment policy issued at age 60.

Attention is directed to the fact that the Government bears the cost of administration and the excess losses due to the extra hazards of the military or naval service. The premium charged is the net rate according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per centum per annum; therefore, a dividend apportionment of $1,750,000 for the year 1922 is truly remarkable.

SUNDAY SCHOOL NEWS FROM WHITE HALL

Contest Between Roodhouse and White Hall Sunday Schools Grows in Interest—To Observe Grant Anniversary.

White Hall, April 25.—Interest in Sunday school affairs has unexpectedly become a matter of rivalry between Roodhouse and White Hall with publication of the total attendance at White Hall on several occasions in recent months. On Sunday the 16th inst. the total attendance at White Hall was 867 and the Roodhouse Record compared the figures with a total attendance there of 1,040 for Easter Sunday. It will be interesting therefore, to give in detail the attendance at White Hall last Sunday, which follows:

Christian	150
Methodist	171
Presbyterian	86
Tabernacle Baptist	66
First Baptist	274
Total	747

The awakening interest grows out of men's class movements in the Methodist school at Roodhouse and the First Baptist school at White Hall, the former having 53 last Sunday and the latter 57, a decline of 72 from the previous Sunday.

The men's class at White Hall meets in Princess theater owing to the crowded condition of the First Baptist church until enlargements are made. There will be a special observance next Sunday morning of the 100th anniversary of the birth of General U. S. Grant whose birthday falls on Thursday, and the teacher, E. L. Wendell, will give a discourse on General Grant at the close of the lesson lecture in accordance with his custom of devoting fifteen minutes to a special topic. Provision will be made for the attendance of all soldiers and such old soldiers as are unable to walk should report to A. M. Nevins at the Pearce grocery in order that they may have an automobile call for them in time for the services at 9:30 a. m. There will be singing of patriotic airs by the congregation. The words of the songs to be sung will be printed on slips and distributed to the assembly. It is expected that the high school and the junior high school will take advantage of this opportunity to learn more about America's greatest military general from one of the country's greatest historical minds E. L. Wendell.

First to establish the $10.90 price—"Usco"

THE makers of U. S. Tires made this announcement last November—

"Hereafter the price of the 30x3½ 'Usco' is $10.90." The lowest price ever quoted on a tire of quality reputation and standard performance.

And now, with the opening of Spring, there seem to be quite a number of "New and Special tires" coming into the market in the $10.90 price range.

Perhaps you are wondering just what there can be either "new" or "special" about these tires.

It can't be the $10.90 price—"Usco" established that five months ago.

Nor quality reputation and standard performance—for it takes more than one full season for any new tire to demonstrate where it stands in quality and value

With so many tires rushing into this $10.90 price field (now that the season promises business from the American car-owner), it is worth remembering that "Usco" showed its good faith by announcing this price last fall.

The same intent to serve that has made "Usco" a standard value for years.

The "Usco" Tire was never better than it is today—with its established quality, its time-tested performance, and its price closely figured in tune with the times.

PRESIDENT HARDING IS GOOD GOLFER

CHICAGO, April 25. — President Harding is a mighty good golfer according to George O'Neil, a Chicago professional, who returned from an invitational golf week with the national chief executive. O'Neil, who trained a number of championship golfers before he retired from active teaching to enter business, played a number of rounds with the president at Washington. He said that the match play temperament of the president was even better than his medal scoring ability, altho Mr. Harding made the last nine holes one day in 41, which is far better than a mere duffer can do.

President Harding is a hard hitter and is improving his game constantly, so that O'Neil predicts that he will soon be scoring constantly in the 80's. He does not drive such a long ball, but he is gaining in distance and has improved his short game of late.

REUTHER'S PITCHING TOO MUCH FOR BOSTON.

BOSTON, April 25. — Reuther's pitching and hitting were largely responsible for Brooklyn defeating Boston 5 to 2 today. He made a single in the second when his team made three runs off the veteran Rudolph and knocked the ball into the right field bleachers on the fly for a home run in the fourth. It was the first time Rudolph had pitched here since 1920.

JAPANESE METHOD OF CATCHING FISH

Birds are Used for this Purpose—Isaac Walton Would be Shocked.

TOKIO—On a moonless night, illuminated only by blazing torches, Edward, Prince of Wales, will be taken for a trip along the River Niagara, to witness the strange cormorant fishing industry while on his visit to Japan as guest of the Imperial government.

This curious method of catching fish with birds instead of hook and line has existed in Japan from time immemorial. Twenty-eight men, four boats and 64 birds constitute a working unit of these picturesque fishing fleets to be seen in many sections of Japan but particularly along the Niagara river.

The cormorants are trained when quite young and will continue work for 15 and even 20 years. When well trained and properly handled, each bird will average about 150 fish an hour.

The master fisherman, distinguished by his peculiar hat, stands in the bow handling no fewer than 12 birds with remarkable skill. Another fisherman, with four birds, is situated amidships, a third member of the crew is stationed between the two, armed with a piece of bamboo which he strikes to keep the birds at their work, at the same time encouraging them by shouts and cries.

Each cormorant has a ring of metal or bone around the base of its neck permitting it to swallow smaller fish as food but effectively stopping those of marketable size from passing through.

Round the body of the bird is a cord, to which is attached in the middle of the back a short strip of stiff whalebone, with which to lower the bird into the water or lift it out again and a thin rein of spruce fibre, twelve feet long.

The master lowers his 12 birds into the stream and holds the reins in his left hand, manipulating them with his right as occasion requires. The section fisherman does the same with his four birds while the third man begins his volleys of noise.

The birds start diving and ducking with wonderful swiftness as the fish come swimming toward the blaze of light. The master has a busy time handling his 12 strings to prevent them tangling while the birds are dashing hither and thither.

When one of the birds becomes engorged, it swims about in a foolish, helpless way, with its head and swollen neck erect and the master hauls it in. He forces its bill open with his left hand, still holding the other lines, and squeezes out the fish with his right, after which he returns the bird to its work. This is all done with such admirable dexterity and quickness that the other birds have not had time to become entangled and immediately the whole team is again perfectly in hand.

Each bird has its own number and knows it. No. 1 or "Ich" is the dove of the corps, the senior in years as well as rank and his companions according to their age come after him in numerical order. Ich is the last to be put into the water and the first to be taken out, the first to be fed and the last to enter the baskets when the work is over. Ich has the post of honor in the eyes of the boat. He is a solemn, grizzled old fellow, with a pompous air. The others are placed alternately on either side of the gunwale according to their rank and should the lawful order of precedence at any time be violated, a terrific rumpus occurs among them.

After the fishing is over, as each cormorant is taken out of the water the master can tell by its weight whether it has had enough to eat during the hunt and if not, the bird is fed with the inferior fish that have been caught.

BROWNS WIN; WILLIAMS GETS ANOTHER HOMER.

ST. LOUIS, April 25. — Slugging his sixth home run in four days, Kenneth Williams today surpassed Babe Ruth's record at this time last season and with three hits out of three times at the plate enabled St. Louis to defeat Detroit 5 to 3. His circuit drive came in the first inning with Sisler on base. Score: —
Detroit 100 110 000- 3 7 0

Williams Knocks Sixth Home Run

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 25. — Kenneth Williams, outfielder of the local Americans slugged his sixth home run in four days at his first time at bat in today's game with Detroit and surpassed Babe Ruth's record of this time last year. Sisler was on base when Williams knocked the circuit drive on Pitcher Ehmke.

Williams' home run series up to date follows:

Saturday—two off Acosta of Chicago in the first and sixth innings; one off Davenport, in the seventh, driving in Sisler ahead of him each time.

Sunday, April 23—off Hodge of Chicago in the sixth, with nobody on base.

Monday—off Oldham of Detroit in the second inning, with Severeid on base.

Tuesday—off Ehmke, of Detroit, with Sisler on base.

Williams, who, with Meusel of New York was runner-up for home run honors in the American League last year has been considered a dangerous hitter. His average for the season of 1921 being .347. In addition to the 24 circuit drives last year, Williams made seven triples and 31 two base hits. This season's record indicates that right hand pitchers are easier for Williams. Five of his home runs coming from the deliveries of righthanders. Oldham of Detroit was the only south paw who fell victim to Williams home run slugging.

Williams started his career as a professional player on first base with the Regina, Western Canada League team in 1913. The following year he was released to the Edmonton team of the same league and was sold to Spokane in February 1915. A month later he was obtained by the Cincinnati National League team for $4,000 but was returned to Spokane and then turned over to the Portland Team of the Pacific Coast League.

The local Americans acquired the outfielder in June 1917, but he did not report till the following season. However, before the opening of the 1918 season, Williams entered the United States army and returned to the local team for the 1919 season.

GOLF GAME HAS NO AGE LIMIT

By Walter Camp.

Golf is the one major sport which may be played with profit and enjoyment by the young, middle aged and old. What a boon was the game for Cap Anson after retiring from so many seasons of strenuous baseball.

It kept him young in body and spirit and he came up to his three score years and ten with head up, alert and vigorous. Veritably he died in the harness.

How will our present day golfing cracks show up when they approach their seventies? Considering this query let us reflect as well upon the fact that John Ball won his first amateur championship in 1888, that in 1910 captured the both open and amateur championship of Great Britain and that in 1910, twenty-two years after he had outclassed the field of amateurs he won his seventh British amateur championship.

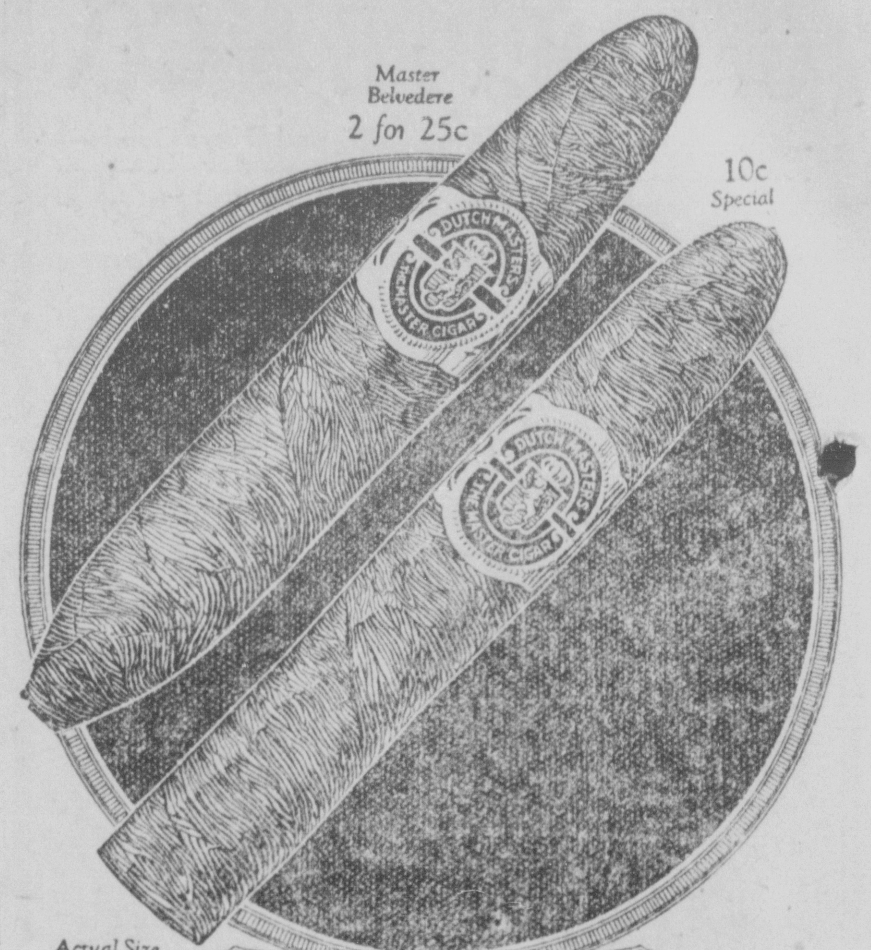

Here's a Mark.

Harry Vardon won his first open championship in 1896 and in 1914 won his sixth British open. These are marks for our golfers to shoot at.

The history of successful men is the most intelligent study in the world. The reason why so many sporting terms are applicable to their careers is because the same spirit of determination, ambition, unswerving by action, lead to success in sports as in business or the professions. If you have a stake in life it is worth playing the game for all there is in it.

CHICAGO, April 25.—The Western Conference baseball game between Wisconsin and Chicago scheduled for today was called off on account of rain.

DECIDED DROP IN PRICE OF WHEAT

CHICAGO, April 25.—Persistent selling on the part of houses with eastern connections resulted in decided drop in wheat prices today and was accompanied by reports that private settlements had been effected on large contracts calling for delivery of wheat in May. The market closed unsettled ½ to 5c net lower with May at $1.40½ to $1.41 and July at $1.27½ to $1.27.
Corn lost ½ to 1½c and oats 10¢ to 15¢. In provisions, the outcome was unchanged to 10c lower.

It was estimated that private settlements involving as much as 5,000,000 bushels and rendering actual delivery here of that amount of wheat unnecessary in May had brought about.

Reports of this kind together with talk that some leading bulls were letting go of their holdings of May did a good deal to ease the strain which has recently been apparent in the market in connection with forecast of a huge shortage of supplies of wheat in Chicago next month.

Smaller holders of May wheat hastened to realize profits or to avoid losses as the case might be with the market meanwhile descending rapidly at times, and showing a tone of a fall of ½ as compared with yesterday's finish.

Messages from the seaboard saying that fully 1,000,000 bushels had been taken for shipment to Europe led to something of a rally in prices but fresh downturns ensued in the last hour and it seemed evident that numerous longs in May had no further intention of paying at steep rates for actual delivery of wheat next month. Corn and oats declined in sympathy with wheat. Besides there was considerable talk of larger receipts of corn after planting is over.

Provisions were easier owing to downturns in the value of hogs and grain.

MORGAN COUNTY FAIR ASSOCIATION TO MEET

Directors Will Hold Meeting This Evening—Much Detail Work Will Be Considered.

The first get-together meeting of the directors and newly elected superintendents of the Morgan County Fair Association will be held this evening at 7:45 o'clock at the Fair headquarters in the Myers Building. The object of the meeting is to organize the departments and outline the duties of the superintendents, in order that the work may progress rapidly.

The premium lists will be arranged, ground work discussed, and concessions and evening entertainment will be considered. The work has been somewhat delayed and each department superintendent is urged to be present at this meeting in order that the catalogue may be gotten out at the earliest possible date. The premium list will be practically the same this year as last year except that the premium awards will be doubled in most cases. This latter fact will make the fair much more attractive to prospective exhibitors and will undoubtedly add to the success of the fair.

Plans for the rebuilding of the race tracks and the fences are well under way and the committees in charge of this part of the undertaking will make reports at tonight's meeting.

Heroine a Bride

MISS FORWARD IN FLOOD RELIEF WORK

Appointed Executive Secretary to Take Charge of Donations for Flood Sufferers.

The committee on the Illinois River Flood Relief has appointed Miss Katherine Forward, executive secretary of the Morgan County Red Cross to take charge of the arrangements for the collecting of donations of food, clothing, etc., for the flood sufferers.

Several of the cities have called for supplies of this kind and a number of Jacksonville people have already signified their desire to help with donations of materials for immediate use in the flooded areas. The articles can be delivered at the Red Cross rooms, in the Public Library building at the corner of West College avenue and South Sandy street. They will be received here by the Red Cross workers and will later be shipped out to the river districts.

Blankets, sheets, pillow cases, sheets, comforts, substantial clothing, flour, canned fruits and vegetables, jelly, and other non-perishable foods are among the articles which the river people really need at once. If you have any of the above named articles, or if you are willing to give any kind of staple groceries send them at once to the Red Cross headquarters. When a sufficient amount of food and clothing has been received, it will be boxed and shipped immediately to Beardstown, Naples, Meredosia and outlying districts where aid is needed at once.

MARKHAM.

Among the Easter visitors at the home of J. R. Wilson and family were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Browning and son Howard of Strawn's Crossing and Jonas Wilson and family of Jacksonville.

The McDaniels sale which was held Wednesday was very well attended. Things on sale brought a very reasonable price. Dinner was served by the Gleaner's Class of the Christian church to Chaplin.

Miss Allene Austin of Franklin has been employed again as teacher at the West Liberty school. This will be most welcome news to the parents as well as pupils.

Clair Wilson is improving nicely from the accident to his eye, which occurred while burning brush.

There is great local interest in the news that Markham continues to have a Wabash station, at least for awhile and the hope is for a more favorable report later.

MAN SHOT AT WHITE HALL IMPROVES IN CONDITION

WHITE HALL, April 25—Advices from Walton hospital today are that the condition of W. A. Bailey has taken a favorable turn, and that there are good prospects for his recovery from the gunshot wound at the hands of Zacharis Hurst last Thursday. Hurst was taken to the county jail at Carrollton Saturday night, and he is to be given a preliminary hearing there the latter part of this week.

Bailey was badly lacerated not only by the discharge of the shot penetrating his body, but in the work of removing the shot some of it is found to be imbedded so deeply that they can not be removed. The arm will not have to be amputated. The patient has been a terrible sufferer, but his sufferings are now reported to be greatly relieved.

EFFORTS TO SAVE M'CREEERY HOME FAILS

Home of Author of "There is No Death" is Falling to Pieces—Was for Many Years Newspaper Publisher.

DELHI IA—Efforts to preserve the old McCreery home here as a memorial to one of the few Iowa poets have failed and the little building is falling to pieces.

The passage of time has not dealt kindly with the old frame house in which J. L. McCreery one of northeastern Iowa's pioneer journalists, penned the poem, "There is No Death."

Authorship of this noted poem has been attributed to various celebrated writers but there seems to be little doubt that the author was McCreery. The poem was one of a number published in the Delaware County Journal in the early '60s when Mr. McCreery owned that publication.

McCreery, in 1859, came to Delhi and purchased an interest in the Delhi Democrat. He became the sole owner shortly afterward and changed the name of the paper to the Delaware County Journal. He published the paper until January 1, 1864, when it died a natural death. McCreery then went to Dubuque to be city editor of the Dubuque Times.

None of the present residents of Delhi lived here while McCreery was published the struggling little country newspaper and acting as superintendent of schools for a county whose people had come from Eastern states to settle along the streams and at the edges of the groves in Iowa.

As editor, composer, publisher, business manager, reporter and "man of all work" on the little pelindum of liberty while trying to inspire young minds with a love of learning, the struggles of this educated and talented young man in the raw little village can only be imagined.

No doubt his poetry was his relaxation. "There is No Death" is the only specimen extant. The opening and closing verses are here repeated:

There is no death; the stars go down
To rise upon some other shore,
And bright in heaven's jeweled crowd
They shine forevermore.

And ever near us, though unseen,
The dear immortal spirits tread;
For all the boundless universe
Is life—"There are no dead."

Kellogg's KRUMBLES

SHREDDED

deliciously flavored
WHOLE-WHEAT

"I wish my boy was rugged like Billy!"

Red-blooded, physically courageous children stand out sharply against puny types! Such contrasts are painful enough in childhood! What future can the undersized stripling expect?

Science proves that in most cases that contrast represents the difference between the properly nourished child and the child brought up on foods out of which life-sustaining elements have been bleached—devitalized, denatured!

You should know that Kellogg's delicious whole-wheat KRUMBLES—with the full, enticing flavor of whole wheat for the first time in food history—are what your child needs every day! And, it is just as important that every member of your family eats KRUMBLES! For, KRUMBLES contain every food element that the body demands—and in perfect proportion!

Whole-wheat KRUMBLES produce red blood and bone and muscle! They make children grow big and strong and robust; they build physical courage and mental vigor! KRUMBLES fortify men and women for the day's work! KRUMBLES sustain the aged as nothing else can! All grocers sell KRUMBLES.

The only whole-wheat food with a delicious flavor!

Money to Build Your Home

We are pleased to announce to the people of Jacksonville that we have made arrangements to loan money to home and apartment builders from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's large fund set aside to help relieve the housing shortage throughout the United States.

In order to distribute the funds as far as practical, amounts up to $5,000 but no larger are loaned on individual homes. Loans on apartments are in proportion to the size of the apartment.

Two things have prevented many of the substantial people of this city from building their homes—the high cost of building and lack of sufficient funds to finance the house.

However, the situation has changed. The cost of building is down 18 to 25% throughout the country, and the Farrell State Bank now has available ample money for your use according to this plan. Bear in mind that they are long time loans with easy payment conditions but can be liquidated any time after the third year.
